THE HOTEL

The uniqueness of Kalambaka lies in the breathtaking rocky formations of Meteora, voted as one of the must-see landmarks in one's lifetime. The name "Meteora" translates to "suspended," perfectly capturing the feeling evoked when you reach the monasteries perched atop these towering cliffs. For nearly a thousand years, these monasteries have been an incredible and unique sight, captivating visitors from all around the world.

Amalia Hotel is a short drive from the town of Kalambaka. The hotel is nestled on 14 acres of greenery and has been built to harmonize its surroundings. This beautiful setting is enhanced with running waters, extensive gardens, a large swimming pool, and views of the Meteora rocks and Theopetra. The moment you enter the hotel's grand lobby a warm feeling embraces you, with special details such as handmade kilims and the fire place in the café and the piano bar.

The café, located on the ground floor, overlooks the swimming pool. Adjacent to the cafe is the hand-painted (?) piano bar, perfect for evening lounging. The two on-site restaurants, Theopetra and Polythea, offer views to the atrium garden with its running waters, a tranquil and lush space located within the hotel's interior.

The hotel's 170 well-appointed guestrooms and two suites are spread over three levels and offer relaxing views over the green gardens and the surrounding scenery. The guestrooms and suites are spacious, furnished with dark wood furniture and fabrics in warm, earthy tones.
