THE HOTEL

Nafplio was the first official capital of Greece in the beginning of the 19th century. The old town has an amazing beauty that combines centuries of history through ancient, byzantine and modern times. Amalia Hotel Nafplio was built with respect to the town's culture and architecture, a neoclassical building set in spacious surroundings, enclosed by beautiful gardens with palm trees and a variety of blooming flowers.

The 171 spacious guest rooms and suite are set in three levels and share views of the Palamidi Fortress, the sea, and the hotel's green gardens.

The Hotel offers a variety of facilities such as a café, a lounge and piano bar with its comfortable sofas and fire place, along with its summer veranda. The main restaurant is situated on the ground floor and serves Mediterranean style cuisine and also breakfast in the mornings. The large swimming pool is just one of the hotel's highlights where guests can relax and enjoy refreshments, cocktails, and light snacks. Don't miss out on the gym, where you can exercise with a view, or enjoy a game of tennis with family and friends at the outdoor ITF tennis court.

The hotel has embodied ecological technologies to become a "green" hotel, part of the Amalia Hotel Group's commitment towards energy preservation and environmental protection, and has been awarded with the International Green Key Award by the Foundation for Environmental Education (FEE), the hotel uses geothermal energy and has biological treatment of liquid treatment.
