

The hotel is member of Amalia Hotel group, owned by Coulouvatos family, a family with many ties to tourism. The start of the enterprise contributed significantly to the upgrading of Greek tourism, having established the iconic Amalia Hotels in historical and touristy areas of our country, such as Syntagma, Nafplio, Olympia, Delphi, Kalambaka and Preveza. Christos Coulouvatos was one of the pioneers of Greek tourism and one of its warmest visionaries.

The management's policy is to respect guests, the environment and the local society. Amalia Hotel Kalambaka is focused and has the vision of implementing a strategy which adopts the development of sustainable tourism.

The goal is to:

- minimize environmental impacts
- optimize business processes
- maximize safety, quality and performance.

At Amalia Hotel Athens, the management and staff undertake our role, following the vision of Amalia Hotels Group for the development of sustainable tourism. Our team contributes to the aim of reducing our environmental footprint and strengthening our social contribution with love and commitment. It is a priority to provide a friendly hotel experience to our guests, operating with a minimum environmental impact, respecting our employees, supporting our suppliers and showing gratitude to local society.

Environmental Practices

In a constant effort to reduce the environmental impact while operating, the management has focused on taking action to control energy and water usage at the hotel as well as necessary waste management

In order to reduce consumption, the below actions have been made:

- Usage of BUS to adjust cooling/ heating when there are no guests present, isolating floors, corridors and rooms to preserve energy
- Replacement of lamps with led and smart led lamps to save energy
- Cards in the rooms to control the electrical supply
- Change of electrical equipment when required with energy class A+ appliances

In order to reduce consumption, the below actions have been made:

- The hotel has a biological treatment of liquid waste. The final product is mainly used for the garden irrigation system
- Instalment of water flow restrictors in the taps and showers, which lower water levels in toilet flushes and monitor possible leaks
- Raise environmental awareness to our guests through room leaflets and reminders
- Staff training to minimize usage
- Water consumption monitoring
- Using of a highly rated water-efficient showerhead (10 lit/min) ecoturbino, rather than older models (20 to 30 lit/min). Using water efficient showers reduces the volume of hot water needed as well as the energy required to heat the water.
- Using only full loads in the kitchen and laundry washing machines
- We carry out regular inspections by the maintenance department for leaks and damage to the water supply system (every 2-3 months)

In order to reduce consumption, the below actions have been made:

- Recycling all cooking oil
- Reducing the use of paper for printing
- Reducing the use of plastic
- Preferring packaging that doesn't make waste
- Preferring bulk orders
- Terminating the use of plastic straws, plastic cups, plastics stirrers
- Using ecological toiletries

Health & Safety

Amalia Hotel Kalambaka provides and maintains high health and safety standards in accordance with the legal requirements, to ensure the health and safety of all employees, guests and visitors by:

- Ensuring that all locations and activities have been reviewed and are safe, with any possible hazards being managed
